Peaceful behavior is for winning hearts and minds in a cold war. If they successfully steal the election, peaceful resistance is over. No one is going to give fuck about Dan Bogino whining about how some governor was unfair to a hair salon. Instead, it will be 10,000 patriots in every state capital going door to door with machetes to put down traitors.

I think most of us are thinking like that now. They don't believe or care about facts. They don't believe in science whether it be kung flu or gender. They don't believe in breathing freely. I could go on and on obviously but we just can't be civil anymore. There's no possible way to live amongst these vermin.

WELL... it's peaceful but not pushover. so peace is great. we don't want to be violent aggressors hurting anyone. we want to use the law. but be strong and not allow them to take us for chumps. and if we must then we must take over congress and fire the traitors by kicking them out of their chairs!

no. im not a lady pede. but i know what must be done. we can show strength and be peaceful and commit to law and be peaceful just like police can do. they uphold laws. well now it's TIME FOR US TO UPHOLD THE CONSTITUTION. the lion doesn't need to go and show off.. the lion just executes when it's time. no need to show off violence.. just take the bite when the bite needs to be taken. - catch my drift?

Sounds like camping type portable toilets would be a good plan too. I wonder if we should crowdfund a few rows of portapotties for everyone now as I expect all normal routes for taking care of that basic need will be blocked. Not that DC would give us a permit for portapotties so they'd be "illegal" toilets on top of everything else.

Bring little compostable toilets guys. And some pop up booths.

Compostable toilets are basically buckets under a seat. Just dump the shit in the street. The homeless do it. The Indians do it. If they're getting rid of public bathrooms, do it.

Make sure you bring water and food for a few days at least. Also would consider bringing tents and sleeping bags. portable heaters ect. Better to have it then not when needed.
